Developmental Stages of Belonging & Purpose for Emerging Adults & Relative Impact To Success of Long-Term Recovery

ZOOM WEBINAR

Presented by Dr. Kitty Harris

JUN 3

10:00AM -
11:30AM

Central Time (CST)

Summary. This presentation will focus on the last 2 developmental stages (belonging & purpose) experienced in emerging adulthood and how those impact the success of long term recovery for this population. We will discuss first the need for a sense of belonging for this group and show how treatment and recovery offer an amazing response for this developmental need. Finally, we will examine a sense of purpose and examine how that can be integrated into the concept and process of long-term recovery for this particular group.

Objectives

1. The participant will learn the impact that having a sense of belonging can be translated in a treatment facility by young adults and taken into the outside world of recovery.
2. The participant will be able to identify what is developed within a sense of purpose and how focusing on that developmental stage in treatment can lead to a better chance for long-term recovery for this population.
